New to Wilson Elser’s national network, our Sarasota office bolsters the firm’s presence in Florida, adding to established locations in Orlando, Wellington and Miami and creating a beachhead on the Gulf Coast. Sarasota’s active business community and its proximity to Tampa and other key population centers cement its standing as a vibrant legal center. Office attorneys focus their practices principally on complex tort and general casualty, intellectual property, commercial litigation, insurance coverage, professional liability, and business and financial law.

The Sarasota office also offers ready access to virtually any legal service, drawing on the collective experience resident among our own attorneys and our colleagues throughout the broader firm. Wilson Elser’s national practice team structure, leveraging the benefits of technology, make it possible for one point of contact to marshal any or all of the resources our clients require to advance even their most ambitious legal objectives.
